

Crawford Netherlands — our response to the coronavirus

As we have all experienced, the COVID-19 pandemic has a significant impact on our business.

One of the impacts you may experience is a large number of event cancellations. For some of these events a contingency policy has been taken out, which may respond in case the event is cancelled due to e.g. a ban by public authorities to organise large-scale public events.

Crawford Forensic Accounting Services (CFAS) has extensive experience in dealing with these types of claims, and is already responding to multiple instructions from the market.

Therefore, if you should have any questions regarding these types of claims, or need any assistance, please do not hesitate to contact us.
